The Son of God

Lesson for January 16, 1955

THE churches composing the World Council have set up one theological condition for membership, and in spite of efforts to induce them to change, they have stuck to it. No church can be admitted that does not acknowledge Jesus Christ "as God and Savior." Now when Jesus is called God outright, the church is saying something the Bible rarely says. Furthermore, it can be confusing to say this. The church universal Dr. Foreman has never meant to say that Jesus is all the God there is, or that Jesus is identical with God. For God exists in three persons (as the church expresses it), and Christ is only one person. Christ is both God and man, but God is not man at all. And yet the church universal, and churches in particular, cling to the statement "Jesus is God," partly because they would rather make the mistake of saying too much than too little about Christ, and partly because this does express their real faith.

Equal With God

Laying all technical theology aside, and speaking as plainly as possible, things can be said about Christ, which the Bible teaches, and which the church believes, and which put together come out where the church stands—on the deity of Christ. First, Jesus himself called himself regularly the "Son of God," and even his enemies could see that that meant placing himself on an equality with God. Paul in the New Testament speaks of Christ as the "image of the invisible God." Hebrews says he "bears the very stamp of God's nature." As was said here last week, Christ is our true picture of God, our best way of knowing what God is like. Now if Christ is "equal with God" we should expect the church to worship him—and so it does. Prayers are offered to him directly as well as to the Father in his name. The Doxology sings, "Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost," and many other hymns and songs are actually prayers to Christ. "Jesus Savior, Pilot Me," "Rock of Ages," "More Love to Thee, O Christ," "Make me a captive, Lord," "Fairer Lord Jesus,"—and any reader can think of many more.

The Mind of God

Second, Jesus himself spoke of his words as being not his own but those of the Father who sent him. This was a vivid way of saying that he knew what was in God's mind, he knew God's attitudes and intentions, how God felt and what he planned to do. Now it is true that there had been prophets who spoke by inspiration and who brought the Word of God to the people. But a famous living theologian has put the difference between the prophets and Jesus this way: The Word of God came through the prophets—but Jesus Christ was the Word. The prophets were at one remove from God, and in Christ there is not even "one remove" from the Highest. The Sermon on the Mount gives perhaps the most striking illustration of this. Often in that sermon you find the words, "Ye have heard that it was said" (and here Jesus quotes some passage from the Old Testament) "but I say unto you" (and here Jesus gives a teaching which may be radically different from the Old Testament). In short Jesus set up his own teaching as actually above the accepted "Word of God." What greater claim—?

The Authority of Christ

The practical question is: How seriously do Christians take this doctrine of the Deity of Christ? The churches officially believe it; and yet church members act as if Jesus had never spoken, or as if his opinion were only one man's opinion, worth no more than the average. Christians might well remember Jesus' own question: "Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" It is one thing to sing hymns to Christ on Sundays, another and harder thing to follow his teachings on weekdays. The test of whether a person really believes in the deity of our Lord is not in what he says about it but in what he does about it. We might even risk this proposition: A person who shrinks back from saying "Jesus is God" and yet believes that in any case Jesus is always right, comes nearer to truly accepting the deity of Christ.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard—Acts 4:13

Just saw a letter from an illiterate Negro to Charlie Worsham who says he was married when Mr. Bob West was sheriff and he now wants Charlie's help in getting an old age "pension." I did not know Charlie, with all he has to do, has time to monkey with old age pensions. If he has, I will send pension-seekers to Charlie instead of Byron Hunter where I usually send 'em.

This is just an idle, extraneous thought, in no way connected with anything foregoing or following: Does the county pay its supervisors anything? Supervisors are NEVER mentioned in the official allowances of the board. Or do they work for pure patriotism?

I am 65 years old and can prove my age. Mrs. Goodwin ought to pay me an old age pension. I ought to get an old soldier's pension, an old age pension from the state, as well as one of these 88 pensions. All I now get is free fishing license, free poll tax and free road tax and can take off medicine from the income tax.

I will never forget how the late J. M. Beckum used to accompany me to Montgomery County, where he was raised and try to help me beat the also late Jim Bull, an attempt which proved to be unsuccessful, nor will I soon forget those handlebar mustaches that characterized Mr. Beckum, nor will I forget how, in spite of being in the 80s, he could do and did work that would strain a man ten years his junior. Since he is now gathered to his father, we should forget how he loved his licker and would taste a nip every time he could get it. Peace to you, Brother Beckum.

A young father came in Monday looking for some baby announcement cards. As usual I sent him to Sam Wade, telling him that Sam had some such cards, if he could find them. Sam has everything and is trying to learn to fish.

It will be cool in the City Hall this Summer, if that air-conditioning contraption installed by Frank Evans works. The contraption being put in will cool all parts of the immense building except the large assembly hall in the rear thereof. Thus Grenada Grows.

I don't reckon there is a better place "to" fish on Grenada Lake than the bridge across Boushe Creek. Of course, I have not seen anybody catching any thing much but it really is a good place to fish and the place attracts a host of people every day, Sunday, when Mabel and I checked up twice a dude had not only a portable charcoal stove but also a fire built close to the east abutment of the bridge. The only fish I actually saw was a very, very small fish disspayed by Charlie Dattel. There was an almost constant stream of car traffic all day.

Bill Cunningham, as if he was getting recently paid an installment.

MERRY CHRISTMAS KITCHEN

How many times have you noticed, when Christmas presents are being opened, the small, unexpected gifts gets the most attention and the warmest welcome? This idea of the little things being important can be carried over into the Christmas kitchen.

Of course, we are assuming that this kitchen has the most modern clock-controlled electric range, ready and waiting to roast the holiday turkey. The new, gleaming refrigerator is fully capable of handling all the extra provisions for the rush of seasonal entertaining. Good storage cabinets, plenty of work surface and perhaps a dishwasher, a freezer and a modern laundry unit complete the picture. In spite of these wonderful appliances there is room for small improvements.

Step shelves for condiments and spices can be made at home or purchased inexpensively. What a time saver to be able to locate the tins or nutmeg without a five minute search of the entire cabinet shelf.

A chopping block is a must in any home today and can be installed quite easily. Ash and maple, both hard woods, are the best for cutting and chopping surfaces. Solid boards are good for mail surfaces. Such tops stand hard wear and supply excellent smooth, quiet and heat resistant work surfaces. Edges do not need finishing, nor does the wood require finishing. Unfinished wood surfaces may be cleaned by scrubbing or sanding.

In line with the chopping block, another present that would make any homemaker happy is a good set of kitchen knives, designed to do every possible cutting job. If these knives come with a case or storage drawer so much the better. Good quality cutlery and good care are large dividends.

The convenience of a stainless steel counter top next to the range is a real gift that keeps on giving. It offers a safe spot to place hot pans as they are taken off the range.

Perhaps one thing your kitchen needs but could not find room for is an eating area. This is true of so many apartment and small project home kitchens. If you have a wall space, say under a window, a shelf at least 14 inches wide can be attached to the wall. Plastic surfaced material, linoleum or glass could be used to top the shelf set at a convenient height.

A less expensive method of finishing off a wooden shelf would be to paint the surface with a bright cherry enamel and use a ruffle edging to match the window curtains.

A roll-about table could be used many times a day in any kitchen. Dishes, silver and food, hot from the oven, can be quickly transported from kitchen to dining area. It is just as useful for the return trip with soiled dishes. With a type of casters that lock in place the table can often be used for sit-down tasks.

Perhaps an electric mixer is a cherished gift of another year but it must be stored in an inconvenient spot and full benefit of this appliance has been lacking. The handy home carpenter will be thanked many times if he can provide a convenient shelf near an electric outlet.

Very tiny gifts are measuring spoons that can be hung near the sink, a flour shaker and sugar jar placed near the range save steps and add to the creative pleasure of meal preparation. A really good can opener complete with a magnetic type lid holder is another gift that can be added to the list.

If Brother Denley in Bruce tried to hold back the candidates, he did not succeed very well. The first issue of his Calhoun County Journal of 1955 had a list of candidates as long as a maiden's dream. Folks over there, where times are not too good, surely are anxious to serve their country.

Boiling down a long-winded release that Donald Sharp brought in for publication, it means that government is going to cut out handling "junk" mail on March 31. Al Gully who mails a lot of that kind of stuff says it helps him a heap. We do the printing for Al and it helps us a heap. Beyond that we have nothing to say.

A good many folks of Greenwood came over to Grenada Sunday to see a train.

Make room for the fellow who was

In the office Saturday and who said "several" had asked him about running. If he don't die, he will be running soon. It don't take MUCH encouragement for a fellow to run for office.

Our old friend, Stuart Gibson of Memphis had his wife, Sunday send in renewals for himself and sister, Mrs. Fletcher, both in Memphis. A letter informs me that he has been in the Tennessee T. B. hospital for 2 months, but is doing better. Stuart is the son of old Squire John Gibson who had something to say about political office. The squire said he had watched politics a long time and that a man either got beat or died in office. In other words, once bitten by the political bee, he never got over it.

It is probably a lie, but it was told to me anyway. Both squire John and his son, Vernon, liked the bottle. Vernon got too much one day, so Squire hired a Negro with a wheelbarrow to haul Vernon to squire's house. The squire was touchy with money and he saw where the wheel barrow cost less than a taxi. If that is a lie, it aint my lie.

Squire Gibson, in his younger days, took turns with Gene Atkinson in being supervisor of Beat 5. Vernon himself served one term in that office, succeeding me in that post.

Until Jim Elliott occupied the office of supervisor of Beat 5 three successive terms, nobody had ever immediately succeeded himself there, although, as stated elsewhere John Gibson and Gene Atkinson took time about for a good many years.

J. E. Costlow, our charter member who paid up Monday of last week, got into the hospital Thursday, was operated on right away and now calls that, as of Friday "is doing fine." Good!! He is in Room 15.

Ethel Townes who recently bought the Bailey home on South Street and fixed it up must have done a good job of fixing everything for modernity and convenience because William Wright's colored maid was visiting Ethel's maid and told Ethel, "Lord, Miss Ethel, you don't have to pray for nothing."

I am not saying this to try to get Louie Angevine to pay his subscription or anything like that. They are about the promptest payers we have anyway. But, it seems to me that Louie is a wheel horse in always being able and willing to get everything electrical around Grenada fixed up and straightened out. Louie is just a useful citizen in Grenada and, frankly, I don't see how the power company and Grenada could very well get along without him.

Obey the fire laws!

Plan $10,000,000 Oil Refinery In State, Governor Announces

Gulf Refining Company Interested Independent Refiner In State Site; Will Supply Crude, Purchase Products

JACKSON, MISS., Dec. 6.—Governor Hugh White revealed today that a $10,000,000 industrial installation is planned in Mississippi. The new plant will be an oil refinery capable of processing 12,000 barrels of Mississippi crude oil daily, he said.

Pontiac Eastern Corporation, an independent refining firm, will build the processing plant at a site in south-central Mississippi. An affiliate of this company located a refinery at Gretna, Colorado, Texas.

The Mississippi refinery became possible when Gulf Refining Company arranged to supply Pontiac Eastern with the volume of crude oil necessary to operate the refinery efficiently, and to purchase the bulk of the refined products.

Gulf, which is one of the leading oil companies having interests in Mississippi, has discovered eleven fields in the state and now accounts for more than one-fifth of Mississippi's oil production.

Governor White's announcement of the $10,000,000 refinery came as a result of conference held recently between Gulf officials, the Governor and members of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board. The conference took place during an industrial trip the Governor and members of the A. & I. Board made to New York and Pittsburgh in October.

The announcement, released Monday by the governor's office to the Capital Press and wire services, read as follows:

"As a follow-up of my recent conference in Pittsburgh with officials of the Gulf Refining Company, one of our largest crude producers in Mississippi, I am now announcing that Gulf has been successful in the development of an independent refinery in Mississippi."

"I have been advised by officials that Pontiac Eastern Corporation, affiliated with Pontiac Refining Corporation, which owns and operates a large refinery in Corpus Christi, Texas, will build a 12,000 barrel-per-day modern refinery specifically designed to process Mississippi crudes. Gulf Refining Company made this project a reality by assuring Pontiac of a crude supply and a market for its products. The Pontiac Corporation is a leading oil engineering design and construction company, which will include special equipment to manufacture Gulf's high specification quality products.

"I have also been advised that the refinery will cost in excess of $10,000,000 of which approximately $7,000,000 will be spent locally for construction payroll. When in operation the plant will provide jobs for approximately 150 permanent employees, and will spend over $1,000,000.00 a year for local payroll and services.

"Pontiac Eastern is studying alternate locations, and a selection will be made upon the basis of availability of acreage land, water, power supply and other factors. Pontiac estimates the refinery can be completed in 18 months.

"I am of the opinion that this is only the beginning of a tremendous development in the processing of one of our great natural resources. This new plant is the result of our untiring efforts to have more of Mississippi's natural resources processed within the state.

"On my visit to Pittsburgh I found the Gulf people very sympathetic to Mississippi's problems, and I know that the people of Mississippi will appreciate Gulf's willingness to cooperate with the state in making possible this new oil industry. I personally feel very grateful to officials of Gulf Refining Company, and I wish to welcome the Pontiac Eastern people as new citizens of our state."

Lott and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Blakely and son of Grenada and Rt. 4; Mr. Sam Lott, Lambert, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. John R. McNeal and son and Mr. Bill Brister, Pascagoula, Miss. Pfc Paul Lott has returned to camp.

This is written on a rainy Sunday night . . . we were privileged to attend an impressive service in a fine old church at five o'clock this afternoon, and they called it "The Hour of Power."

A number of people spoke. Each gave his ideas and impressions of the great powers of our country. Powerful armies, navies, airforce powerful machines to make powerful implements for war and for peace time endeavors. There is, they said, power in the skies, and on land and under the sea. Yet, as we hold these tremendous instruments of power in our hands, we have to admit we have fear in our hearts. We fear, of course, that our way of life is threatened. We fear that some day great hordes of unenlightened and misguided peoples will swarm over our beloved land and massacre us, and we continue to build up more power in our weapons of war and we do it because we are afraid. I think probably there is coming into light the realization that armed might may no longer deter an enemy. We just may have to admit the competition for building the biggest bomb or the biggest cannon is not the answer to the goal we seek because of the possibility that what we can build others can build and as long as there is balance in weapons of war then we might as well depend upon a single barrel shot gun for our protection against invaders. Power in our hands . . . fear in our hearts!

The story in the Bible of Hezekiah, one of the great kings of Judah, is a very good story to read on a rainy Sunday night. This good king had troubles. Not only his little kingdom was threatened by a powerful enemy but the little king was sick unto death, and the story says Hezekiah "turned his face to the wall . . . and wept." The overwhelming invading enemy was encamped outside the city and he had power to spare. That is, power of a kind, power in numbers, horses, chariots, shields and spears . . . man made power. But Hezekiah had power too . . . the kind you dont see with the naked eye.

The prophet Isaiah came to Hezekiah and said the Lord has heard thy prayer and seen thy tears . . . and He will heal thee . . . and will add unto thy days fifteen years. And, that was the kind of power Hezekiah had at his disposal and it must have been pretty good because the next morning the enemy by the thousands lay dead where they had slept out side Hezekiah's little walled city.

Dr. Robert G. Lee . . . a preacher of Memphis, Tennessee, said "when you depend upon education, you get what education can do for you; when you depend upon medical science, you get what medical science can do for you; but when you depend upon prayer, you get what God can do!"

No, dear reader I'm not a preacher . . . not even a teacher. I am a salesman with eight years of formal education, but I'm never ashamed for people to know that I love to read the Bible and to meditate on the things we learn from God and his people who lived and loved and had their troubles even as you and I.

I Dont "Know" So Much Like I Used To

When I was younger and "knew everything" I would have a remedy to suggest to the recalled members of the legislature who are soon to meet in extraordinary session for the primary purpose of straightening out the segregation-school matter.

As it is, I realize that the state has a hot potato, one which is going to be hard to digest.

One fact sticks out. Mississippi is still in the United States. The Supreme Court is still the nation's last word. The Supreme Court has acted and, so far, has not taken anything back.

I guess Mississippi COULD succeed as it did in the 60s, but where would that lead to.

Mississippi might go back to the 1896 decision of the Supreme Court and say "we are now going to follow that decision", but where would that get us?

There is just one perplexing question after another. The further one delves, the darker things get.

I guess the best thing for me to do is frankly to admit that I dont know what to do, then publicly admit it.

Digging Up A Bone I Buried Last Year

I feel sure that the men who framed the Constitution of Mississippi never realized that a beat of the county would eventually become, in reality, a unit in government.

They contemplated, I am sure, that a county would always be the unit of government.

As it has turned out, the beat really has become the unit of government. While, to preserve the fiction of the Constitution, everything is done in the name of the county, yet the beat is the big boy in the set-up.

Many counties are like Grenada County in that they are really five counties in 1 county, and the supervisor, believe it or not, is indeed the boss of that beat. It has become quite expensive to maintain five complete sets of equipment, and to maintain a full crew for each beat, to have 5 purchasing agents and five different sets of standards for road building and road maintenance. Did you ever stop to realize, how much less expensive it would be to have ONE set of road equipment, ONE crew, ONE barn, ONE purchasing agent and ONE standard of excellence in road maintenance and road building, so that nobody could tell to the exact spot where the beat line was.

I have worried with this matter a long time and have had a lot to write about. As a matter of fact, I have said that I was not going to worry with it again, yet it is so apparent (at least to me) that something should be done, that I hope a majority of the NEXT supervisors (there aint any use in worrying with the supervisors now serving, I have tried THAT with NO success) will resolve to be "county" minded, and not so much "beat minded."

I can not but be reminded that, after I fussed about five years, the supervisors hired Dick Smith to measure the roads of the various beats and, no doubt, paid him for his work. That was in May, I think. The supervisors then entered on the book an order to the effect that, starting October 1, the car money would be divided according to the road mileage in each beat. This move was partially something I had been talking about for years. However, before the time to divide the money in that manner came, the supervisors changed "back." In other words, the supervisors went up the hill in May, then came back down before October. Regardless of accurate details of what actually happened, the foregoing was the substance of it. In short everything is going on TODAY just like things were going on BEFORE the big change(?). In other words Albert Clark (and I like Albert) with his SMALL mileage, is still getting as much money as do Ben Sanders, J. W. Bowen and Barty Fox, with their much greater mileages.

If the folks want things to continue THAT way, I can stand it.

By the way, what do supervisors get? The official proceedings do not show.

Grenada Has "Natural" Advantages

I just wonder if folks traveling about over the country have ever realized how many "natural" advantages Grenada has compared to such advantages which the rank and file of towns have.

In most other towns, have you noticed the huge and tall fabricated steel towers to which the town's water supply has to be pumped. Pine Hill in Grenada is Grenada's erected tower and that works all the time by the force of gravity which costs nothing and which never has to be replaced or adjusted.

The same costless, never-to-be-repaired force, gravity, works for us in the disposal of both storm and sanitary sewerage. Less fortunately located towns, say like Greenwood, often have to pump such stuff away.

The Yalobusha River is here at our door and it supplies the master sewer for our waste. Nor does it require periodic digging out and clearance. The river belongs to the government and it is the responsibility of the government.

Many towns lying along the banks of a river, as Grenada does, are visited by periodic floods, overflowing the town or parts thereof. Overflow is unknown here and most likely there will never be an overflow unless, or until Grenada Dam busts which is indeed a far-fetched contingency. Somebody, with fine forethought located Grenada, just as Memphis was located, on the high bluff of its river.

The topography of Grenada is such that the engineers who located the I. C. Railroad and those who located the arterial 51 Highway could hardly have avoided Grenada.

Grenada is a "natural".

Candidates Are Requested To Read This

This is "candidate" year just beginning. Frankly, we hope that those aspiring for public office will hold off a good while and not be like those in Calhoun County where over a dozen announced in the first 1935 issue of the Journal at Bruce.

In the next place, the law does not require any candidate to announce in the paper, but he must have his name in the official pot. Since Hurd Horton is no longer the Mr. Crump of the county, the work he did is now being done by Bill Lomax. So, if you want your name in the official pot see Bill. If it is not Bill's duty to place the name in the pot, then Bill can tell you to whom to go. Be that as it may most candidates want their names "in the paper" and, if they want their names in the GCW, as many do, then here is what we do for the "stud fee". We put the name in the "announcement column" and keep the name there until after the election; we give 500 printed candidate cards; we publish a write-up of the announcement of our own get-up, or that of the candidate himself and we charge for our services according to scale that we got up.

For Chancery Clerk, we charge $25; for Sheriff, Circuit Clerk, Superintendent of Education, and County Tax Assessor - $20.00; For Supervisor, $15; for J. P., $5.00; for legislator, state senate and all state offices, $10.00; and, for Coroner and Ranger, $2.00.

We base our charges, in a rough and ready way, on what the man gets out of office, if he is elected. If he gets a heap, we charge him a heap; if he dont get much, we dont charge much. These charges are not based on the state's Constitution. They are fixed on what we ourselves got up. These charges are not based on what other newspapers do. They may be higher or lower than what other news papers do.

The GCW runs its own business and makes its own rules and, we hope, they are fair rules.

Mother Of The Year

I see where the Polio Drive folks are going to name a Mother of The Year again this year.

I just want to renew a suggestion made many times before that Mrs. P. R. Daley of Grenada be named Mother of The Year. The Daley family, consisting of mother, father and about seven kids, live in one of the Cuff-owned houses on Line Street.

The family once lived right next to us and we have never seen more orderly, clean-dressed, kids. If it is the function of a mother to see that the kids go to school regularly, keep their noses clean and refrain from meddling with neighbors, then, it seems to me, that Mrs. Daley should win the cake.

I again nominate Mrs. Daley as Grenada's Mother of The Year.

"Farm of the Week" - Last Week

The farm headquarters shown are those of Mr. Virgil Cook. The aerial photographer who took the pictures for the GCW again got out of Grenada County and slightly out of Grenada County this time, not that it makes much difference.

As a matter of fact, the farm belongs to Mr. Cook who married Mr. Sam Brunson's daughter and who, by the way, had a beautiful farm nearby, a farm which was the subject of a picture in the Grenada County Weekly last year.

The farm lies in the open lands along the eastern side of Petty Co. County and is part of the old auxiliary air base area these.

Ben McElwath called us Sunday night and identified the picture. The hunting club owned by the Tie Plant boys is in the lower lands adjacent to the Cook property.

Mr. Cook was for a long time connected with the legal department of the government which was straightening out titles of land for the Grenada Dam but married and went to farming. What one sees from the photograph, one is bound to say that there is "good farming" going on there. The farm consists of over 300 acres and is worked entirely by tractors. Later on Tuesday morning, Mr. Cook came in and claimed his picture, took out the paper and drove back to Carroll County where, by the way, he is fixing to get in the Carroll County quadrennial rat-race. He is a nice young fellow and has a good looking wife who was with him Tuesday.

The land on his farm and in this entire area is alluvial land, built up by overflows from the creek.

 $64,000.00 in each of the years 1971 through 1975.

Bidders are requested to designate in their bids the price they will pay for bonds bearing interest at a rate or rates likewise to be designated in their bids; provided, however, that all bonds of same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate.

It is the intention of the Board of Supervisors to decide which of the bids submitted is the highest, on the basis of the total interest cost over the life of the issue, less the premium specified in the bid.

Proposals should be addressed to the Board of Supervisors and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Bonds", and should be filed with the Clerk of said Board on or prior to the date and hour hereinabove named. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, or exchange, issued or certified by a bank located in the State of Mississippi, payable to Supervisor's District No. One, in the amount of Twenty-one Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($21,500), as a guarantee that the bidder will carry out his contract and purchase the bonds if his bid be accepted. If the successful bidder fails to purchase the bonds pursuant to his bid and contract, the amount of such good faith check shall be retained by the Board of Supervisors and covered into the funds of said District as liquidated damages for such failure. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids submitted.

These bonds are offered subject to the unqualified approval of the legality thereof by the law firm of Charles and Trauernicht of St. Louis, Missouri. The District will pay the legal fees and will pay for the printing of the bonds and the cost of the validation of said bonds. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the purchaser within sixty days after the date of sale, at a place to be designated by the purchaser and without cost to the purchaser.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of Grenada County, Mississippi, this 15th day of December, 1954.
